Principal’s News

THANK YOU

The support of the local community is appreciated ....

😊 Thank you to Jackie French for her recent donation to our school library.

😊 Thank you to the Braidwood Life Centre for their recent donation to assist with our breakfast club and clothing pool.

😊 Thank you to the local SES for helping out at the cross country event on Wednesday of last week.

And stating again...

☆ Thank you to those parents who ensure their child is in the correct school uniform each day, even when the child tells you it’s okay to wear something else – you know it’s not! Your commitment to this school is noted.

☆ Thank you to all those parents who ensure we have the latest details on file, whether it’s an address change, a new phone number, an email address or medical information. We regard this as extremely helpful.

☆ Thank you to those parents who keep the lines of communication open, to those parents who answer the phone when the school calls, those parents who call us back when a message is left, those parents who make appointments to speak to staff. Your commitment to maintaining a positive partnership with the school is celebrated.

CONGRATULATIONS

To everyone who entered the cross country events on Wednesday last week. A wonderful day co-ordinated by our teachers Miss Tara Hart and Mr Sam Wilson and supported by all our incredible staff.
A REMINDER
It has become obvious that, in the past, a number of parents have not provided the school with full details on enrolment forms. Correct information about your educational background, as a parent, and your current occupation is critical to the funding that the school receives. Further information on this will be provided at the upcoming P&C, AECG and community meetings. I would encourage you to speak to someone who attends one of those meetings to find out more. Following that discussion we will be calling parents to check our information and to ensure accuracy.

Everyone is invited to be a part of the P&C. Join us on Wednesday 18 March at 7pm in the school library. At this meeting you will learn more about how you can support fundraising enterprises for the school and where those funds are allocated in the school. You will learn more about upcoming school functions and events. You will also learn more about the future directions of the school.

For parents of Aboriginal students, join us on Wednesday 18 March at 5pm in the school library for an AECG meeting. At this meeting you will have a critical role in defining how support is provided for our Aboriginal students. You too will learn more about the future directions of the school and you will have input into how the school will celebrate NAIDOC in 2015.

For parents who want even more knowledge about the school and how it functions, join us on Monday 23 March at 3.30pm in the school library for the community engagement working group. The parents who attend this meeting will have a critical say in shaping policies and practices of the school as we recognise the role of the family in education.

Helping your child navigate social "netiquette". When I was younger, thoughts of laptops and phones with internet connection were non-existent, or at least science fiction. (I do remind myself that I read George Orwell's 1984 when it was still science fiction.) Fast forward to today and our kids are carrying these devices around in their backpacks and pockets. With all this technology comes a great deal of responsibility for young people and their parents. I know I expect my children to use their manners, show respect and treat others as they would like to be treated. I expect this in the real world and I expect this online – constantly and consistently. Social netiquette is exactly that: online rules and guidelines that match real world rules and guidelines. Here are some guidelines you can teach your child to help them develop social netiquette:

Don't be an "open book"
Giving away too much information, too soon, to people you may not really know can put your child at risk. What you need to know and understand is that your child is now hanging out in the biggest possible public place there ever was. Placing themselves online and being an open book can make your child a target. Once they have put themselves out in this public place, they are accessible to billions of people.

Even with tight privacy settings and all the awareness in the world, that post or photo is out there; the chances are that sometime, someone out there is going to make a derogatory comment about something they put online.

I’m not saying that is right, but I am saying that it is bound to happen. Be prepared for that, and talk to your kids about what to do when it does. We recommend they do not respond, let a trusted adult know what has happened and do not re-enter that conversation.

Building your personal brand
In a world where social media rules, we have all become brands. Everything we do online is either adding or detracting from our personal brand. Does your child want their brand to be like a Nike or Coca Cola: a top shelf brand that people want to buy into because it is seen to have value? Everything your child says, "likes", reposts, comments or re-tweets on social channels tells others what they are all about. Online presence is not only about the content that they provide themselves – it is also about what’s written or posted about them by others. Today’s first impressions occur on the internet. In today’s world, an individual’s online reputation is far more believable than anything they can provide on a piece of paper. A comment on a piece of paper doesn’t have a lot of "weight", but what others can see about them on the internet – now that is "real". A strong personal brand will allow your child to move between opportunities with ease.

Housekeeping required
Your child’s personal brand will also outlive any of their personal and professional achievements. Setting up and maintaining social networking requires constant work. Work with your kids to maintain a clean house, so to speak.

Keep social networks tidy and tight. Some apps make it very easy to connect with people they have never met. Have a conversation with your child about why "quality friends" should win over "quantity of friends". Are they connecting only with real life face-to-face friends? Who will stand beside them if they don’t, and if things go wrong? Mistakes will be made, and our aim is to minimise the slip-ups our children will make. The first thing is to reassure your child that you will be there to help if something goes wrong or gets out of control. Yes, we may be angry at first, but your child will need your... support; we may be disappointed, but we will get over it.
Let your child know that you are far more likely to respect them for being upfront about issues rather than trying to bury any mistake they have made. Even the most insignificant online actions can have an influence on how your child will be perceived. Take a proactive and preventative stance – spending the time now to help your child navigate their way through their new digital world, and to help them attend to any stains and spills that might happen along the way, will pay off in the long run. Learning how to edit, block and delete content is a great place to start.

Encourage kids to T.H.I.N.K.
This is an ‘oldie but a goodie’ and it works every time.
Work with your kids to have them answer these five simple questions before they post. Is it True? Is it Helpful? Is it Inspiring? Is it Necessary? And is it Kind? If your child can answer yes to those five questions, then certainly they can consider putting their material online.
But even a single “no” to one of these questions means they will be pushing the boundaries of social netiquette.
Times certainly seem different these days, but the rules are still the same. Be nice in public, make a good first impression, tidy up your mess and think twice before speaking. A great tip for us as adults too!

much appreciated. The raffle will be drawn after the Easter Hat Parade on Thursday 2\textsuperscript{nd} April. Tickets for the raffle will be sent home soon.

Games Wanted For Our Library
On Fridays at lunchtime students K-12 have been enjoying playing board games and card games. We have some games available but would welcome donations of suitable games in good condition.

So if you have some games at home that have all their ‘bits’ and are taking up valuable cupboard space, we would love to receive them. For example; Monopoly, Scrabble, Boggle, backgammon, chess, draughts, Connect Four, Cluedo etc.

Our library also welcomes donations of suitable recent special interest magazines. Topics such as horses, nature, motorbikes, travel, hunting, fishing and cars are popular.

Thank You

P&C News

MEETING – the P&C AGM is this week
Please join us this Wednesday at 7pm in the School Library for the P&C Annual General Meeting. All are welcome and there are lots of things to discuss and plenty of opportunities to get involved.

NEEDED – P&C Secretary
The P&C is in need of a Secretary. This job entails coming to P&C meetings (where you can keep up-to-date with all developments at the school), taking the Minutes, preparing the meeting Agenda, picking up mail from the Front Office and helping with occasional correspondence. You will be fully supported by other committee members to help ease you into the role. If you are interested in taking part in the P&C, helping make our school even better, but prefer writing to talking, this is the ideal job for you!

NEEDED – Prize donations for Easter Raffle
This popular fundraiser is once again being run to help raise funds to purchase resources for our students. Donations of Easter eggs or other Easter treats are needed so that we can put together a range of Easter baskets as prizes. We also need cane baskets to put the treats in. The raffle will be drawn after the Easter Hat Parade on Thursday 2nd April. Tickets for the raffle will be sent home soon.

UPDATE – P&C Logo design competition
Thanks to everyone who entered the P&C logo competition. The entries will now be considered by the P&C Committee and the winner notified by the end of term.

Contact the P&C
The P&C email address is bcspandc@gmail.com or you can contact the President, Bidda Jones, directly on 4842 7189 or 0422 542175 or bidda@sharewater.net

Show Thank You
We had a very successful day with the BBQ at the Braidwood Show and would like to say a huge thank you to everyone that helped out. We had a great band of volunteers on the day that helped everything run smoothly and many stayed much longer than their 2 hour shift, plus we received an enormous amount of donated baked goods so thank you to all the bakers. An extra thank you to Greg and Wendy who worked all day. Thank you everyone!!!

Notes from the School Counsellor

If you suspect that your child is depressed get professional help. Sadness that has an identifiable cause, such as a death, separation of parents, is not depression, but can lead to depression. Sadness is normal; we feel sad if something occurs to make us sad, but depression is different.

Depressed kids are often tired of fighting their own internal battle and trying to cope with something that is too difficult for them. They are also lonely and become increasingly so. You could help by reassuring them of your love, by encouraging them to do the things they used to do and see the friends they used to be in contact with. Sometimes a pet can make all the difference.

Don’t psychoanalyse them or give them the third degree, just find outlets that make them feel better so they can start to regain control – new sports gear or new hairstyle, but be realistic: if their depression affects their appetite, sleep, mood or activity level, seek medical or psychological help.

Signs of depression are; prolonged sadness, withdrawal from activities or friends they used to enjoy, waking up early or not sleeping, not eating, or eating more than they used to do, lack of communication, unusual irritability.

If you have any doubts or worries please contact your doctor, or you can talk to me.

Lesley Adamson.
Your School Counsellor.

Goulburn Regional Conservatorium

Braidwood Central School is pleased to announce that Goulburn Regional Conservatorium (GRC) will be offering music lessons at BCS. GRC provides individual and group tuition in voice, strings, drums, keyboard and a variety of woodwind and brass instruments. You do not need to own or purchase instruments – the school has a limited number of woodwind and brass instruments, and further instruments can be hired at affordable rates. Lessons will be given by local tutors, and will take place in the Music Room on Fridays and Wednesday afternoons during school hours. Rates are as follows:

- $28.30 for a 30 minute individual lesson
- $16.70 for a 15 minute individual lesson (for younger children)
- $18 for a shared (2 students) 30 minute lesson
- $13 for a group lesson (guitar and keyboard only).

Lessons are available for voice, keyboard, woodwind (clarinet, saxophone, flute), brass (trumpet, trombone, tuba), strings and drums. Please put down three preferences, as the availability of specialist tutors will depend on numbers.

GRC also offers scholarships and bursaries to families who may have difficulty affording lessons & / or instrument hire. Please see Mrs Appleby or download a form from the GRC website (www.thegrc.com.au).

I would particularly like to see enrolments for woodwind and brass instruments, as the school owns several (so no hire or purchase cost), and we can get a concert band up and running quickly and successfully. The GRC offers ensemble tuition for these groups free of charge to students enrolled in individual or group lessons.

Interested? Please pick up an enrolment form from the front office, or see Mrs Appleby. Forms should be returned to the school (Front Office or Mrs Appleby), NOT directly to GRC.
